FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SAN DIEGO, CA - Future Champions Golf is pleased to announce that we have now added Fujikura Golf Shafts as the "Official Shaft" of the FCG Tour. Starting in 2014, every Future Champions Golf member and tournament participant will receive a certificate for a "Complimentary Custom Fitting by Fujikura."

Fujikura makes the world's best performing golf shafts and is a primary supplier of custom golf shafts to many original equipment manufacturers (OEMs). Fujikura products also can be custom fit through its network of over 900 Certified Fujikura Charter Dealers. Custom fit golf shafts are used by 100% of Tour professionals. Amateur and everyday golfers also have the opportunity to find a shaft to fit their unique swing profile - adding yards, tighter dispersion and more confidence to their swing.

David Schinder, President & COO of Fujikura Shafts is excited about Fujikura's involvement in junior golf; "It is very exciting for Fujikura to be honored as the official shaft of Future Champions Golf. We work hard to design performance shafts for all level of players including junior golfers that have aspirations to play at the college and professional levels. As a former junior and college golfer myself, it is personally satisfying to be able to contribute to the success of future golf stars"

The 2014 FCG Tour schedule is lined up to be one of the most exciting in the history of Future Champions Golf. Our FCG National Tour will host events around the Southern California area, as well as multiple stops in Las Vegas, which has turned into a hub for junior golf. The FCG World Series will be hosting events at some of the top golf destinations in the country in 2014, which includes: Horseshoe Bay Resort (Texas), Pumpkin Ridge Golf Club (Oregon), Primm Valley Golf Club (Nevada), PGA West and Sandpiper Golf Club (California).

Founder of Future Champions Golf, Chris Smeal, likes the added value of involving Fujikura; "Future Champions Golf is constantly trying to add value to each one of our events. With Fujikura now giving our players complimentary fittings, this will attract more players to our events and increase value for players, Future Champions Golf and Fujikura."
