

FUTURE CHAMPIONS ROAD MAP

Future Champions Golf caters to all ages and skill levels, below you can find out where your son or daughter may fit in.

All Beginner Students getting started in the Game. Focus on developing fundamentals and developing a passion for the game. Providing opportunities for lessons and coaching, learning the rules and etiquette, and having FUN!!! Attends summer and holiday kids camps.

- FCG Kids Tour
- Skills, Drills, & Classes
- Beginner Camps
- Private Lessons

The Ranches Family:

"We started with Chris five years ago on a tip from a friend. With really no golf experience my wife and I enrolled our very shy six year old daughter in a group lesson. From day one it was obvious that Chris was not only a great instructor, but also very good with kids. He took a girl who would never speak to him or look him in the eye to a point where she now runs up to see him and is never afraid to ask him for advice. At age eight she decided to play in her first tournament on the FCG Kids Tour which she won by two strokes. Chris has always stressed to keep the game fun and both of our girls do exactly that. They enjoy the game and love to compete."

Taft Spain:

"He makes learning golf easier and focused on the aspects of my game which needed improvement. On the course I really know more about what I am trying to do out there. Chris does an amazing job teaching golf. He knows what drives different people and different personalities. The lessons I learned will help to propel me into a more mature level in my game"

All players working on their golf game to play in competition. FCG Players are practicing at least once a week and are either preparing to compete in tournaments or are actively playing in FCG Kids Tour Events, FCG 18-Hole Tournaments, and SDJGA Events.

- 18 Hole Novice Tournaments
- Training Programs
- Private Lessons

Janet Gilbert:

"Chris Smeal's 5-day school is by far the best investment we've made for our junior golfer's career. While we've had a great experience with Chris's lesson programs, the golf school was transforming. The highly personalized instruction, playing lessons and course management training over 5 consecutive full-days took our junior golfer to a new level. She came there wanting to reach the highest mountain, but Chris got her to think about the stars instead. And that's where she's headed. Her confidence has never been better, her desire to compete is now her biggest thrill and her swing captures on-lookers at every driving range. Chris has an extraordinary gift, and he uses it to propel passionate junior golfers."

Matt Klingelberg:

"I just wanted to say thank you for the time you spent with Riley yesterday at the driving camp. We went out and played Carlton Oaks afterwards and he hit 12 of 14 fairways and added about ten yards to his average drive. The 2 he did miss, he missed left. He was able to take aim down the right all day without fear of missing right and even when he did push it or hit a fade it still ended up on in the fairway. He hasn't had a tweak in his swing make such a difference before. As a result he shot a personal best 77 from the reds, going 1 under on the back nine. Thank you again for your help with Riley's game."

On the Road to College Golf, Competing in 36-Hole Weekend and Summer events. FCG Elite players practice often and take private lessons or group coaching programs. FCG Elite players have access to tools and information to become a world class player. More than 30 students have received College Golf Scholarships.

- FCG National Tour
- FCG World Series
- Collegiate Golf Seminars
- Private Lessons

Stephen Watson:

"Chris: I wanted to say thank for all of the help you have given me over these past eight months. Before meeting with you I didn't see a spot on a college golf team in my near future. But after working with you, my golf game has improved dramatically (I have shaved 2 points off my index) and playing college golf has become a reality. In fact, after following your advice, I received a position on the college team I targeted. I even received golf scholarship money! I appreciate everything you have done to help me to this point and I look forward to continuing to work with you through my college years and after."

Tim Mickelson, Mens Head Golf Coach, ASU:

"The Future Champions Golf National Tour is gaining national attention and respect. From what I have seen lately, the players coming out of the Future Champions Golf Program are very well prepared to be successful at the next level: college. The Tour Directors have a lot of energy and are really helping these kids learn how to play tournaments. The course set ups for the older age divisions are very similar to what they will see in college. I will be recruiting heavily at these events as well as watching their website carefully."

Ryan Donovan, Men's Head Golf Coach, SDSU:

"The FCG National Tour was created to provide Junior Golfers an opportunity to evaluate every aspect of their game and test each player to see if they have the skills to compete at the collegiate level. The challenges on the National Tour will mirror those at the collegiate level. I will be recruiting heavily at these events."